AIMS AND SCOPE

The Journal is designed as an annual publication presenting articles in English or German. The purpose of the Journal is to concentrate on and disseminate information concerning the following major issues: (1) language and its impact on social life; (2) problems of communication, dialog and understanding as seen in the light of the concept of man, moral and social order and ecology; (3) problems of comprehension, interpretation and translation.

The journal is designed to provide a medium for presentations that may range from historical overviews to discussions of current research and ideas.

The editors of the Journal are prepared to accept original research papers in the form of full-length papers, short communications, chronicle and reviews.

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

Articles should deal with original research not previously published or being considered for publication elsewhere. Full-length papers either in English or in German, should be submitted to the editors.

The papers should not exceed 8,000 words including footnotes.

An abstract in English (100-150 words long) should be attached to the article.

Book Reviews may not be longer than 2,000 words.

The submission file can be sent in any common word processing format such as Word (.doc), Rich Text Format (.rtf) or Portable Document Format (.pdf).

The papers should use MLA citation style.
